The USETDA 2022 Conference will be held September 21 – 23, 2022 at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio, organized by Case Western Reserve University, Kent State University and the USETDA. USETDA 2022 will provide excellent educational opportunities for professionals from graduate schools, libraries, academic computing and others who work with electronic theses and dissertations (ETDs), institutional repositories, graduate students and scholarly communications. Our goal is to offer relevant, practice-oriented content that supports ETD productivity improvement and ETD professionals. This includes the advancement in ETD operations, the encouragement of the formation of regional ETD associations and networking communities, as well as providing useful and innovative resources, standards, and technology for the development and support of ETD programs. Proposals are welcome from libraries, graduate schools, information technology professionals, graduate students, and faculty as well as library and information systems / services representatives.

The conference theme “Making Connections – Scholarly Communication in the Digital Age” will focus on the impact and implications of connecting scholars and research from across the country and around the world. We will examine the present use and availability of ETDs and related initiatives. We will also explore new and emerging ETD practices, needs, and influences that impact administrative, graduate school, and library professionals.

The USETDA 2022 conference will be a hybrid event. The virtual program will include plenary panel presentations, breakout sessions and workshops in which participants can join in the live discussions. For the in-person venue in Cleveland, in addition to the live sessions, we will host an opening reception, lunches, a networking breakfast, vendor exhibits and poster session event offering a variety of social engagement opportunities. Through our Call for Proposals we welcome your experiences as well as how to provide new capacities to re-envision the future, best practices and policies. Presentation materials (slides, papers, posters, videos) will be included in the online proceedings.

Conference information is available from the resource links at the top of this Web page and

Conference Invitation

The USETDA has announced their 12th annual conference — USETDA 2022 — Making Connections: Scholarly Communication in the Digital Age, to be held as a hybrid event at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, September 21 – 23, 2022 (and online, all times Eastern). To register, visit our registration information Web page.

USETDA Conferences are an excellent educational opportunity for ETD professionals from graduate schools, libraries, academic computing and others who work with electronic theses and dissertations (ETDs). The conference theme “Making Connections – Scholarly Communication in the Digital Age” will focus on the impact and implications of connecting scholars and research from across the country and around the world. We will examine the present use and availability of ETDs and related initiatives while also exploring new and emerging ETD practices, needs, and influences impacting administrative, graduate school and library professionals.

This year’s program includes two plenary panel discussions.

Wednesday, September 21st – “ETD Formatting and Reviewing: Hot Topics and Questions”. Panelists include: Larry Tague (University of Tennessee Health Science Center – College of Graduate Health Sciences), Sally Evans (George Mason University Libraries), Stacy Wallace (University of Florida Graduate School) and Ericka Findley (University of Utah Graduate School). Moderator: Lily Compton, (Iowa State University Graduate College).

Thursday, September 22nd – “Dancing with the Stakeholders: An interactive discussion on types of ETD stakeholders and how they can affect ETD management”. Guided by G.W. Swicord (University of Florida Libraries), additional panelists include Stacy Wallace (University of Florida Graduate School), Lily Compton (Iowa State University Graduate College) and Emily Flynn (OhioLINK). Moderator: Emily Wuchner, (University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign).

Program Highlights

The full program includes two interactive keynote plenary panel discussions, one 90-minute workshop, eight 20-minute brief breakout presentations, eight 50-minute extended breakout presentations, four poster presentations including user group meetings as well as a variety of networking opportunities. All presentations will be delivered “live” via Hopin during the conference. You will be able to view all of the presentations in the Conference Proceedings. You can view the entire conference session line up in our Program Schedule.

Networking Opportunities

In Cleveland you will have the opportunity to participate in a number of structured as well as informal networking opportunities to discuss a variety of ETD topics with colleagues and special interest groups including our welcome reception, networking breakfast and lunches, poster presentation / vendor fair and Dine Arouds. Virtual participants can join in the discussions via Hopin for all sessions throughout the conference.

Conference Workshop

We are pleased to offer intensive learning experiences through our conference workshop series. This year’s workshop is “Hybrid Writing Boot Camp”. Presenters include: Emily Redd and Virginia Foley (East Tennessee State University Graduate School and Educational Leadership & Policy Analysis). For a complete description, visit the conference workshops Web page.

Registration

Don’t miss out on this unique opportunity to learn more and share your experiences with colleagues at USETDA 2022! Member registration is only $169 or $269 at the non-member rate through September 14th. Book your group discount lodging reservation at $134 per night by September 12th via our Accommodation Web page. To register for the conference, visit our registration information Web page.

We hope to see you in-person in Cleveland or online at USETDA 2022.

Kind Regards,

Connecting your institution's dissertations – benefits of citation networks

When your institution's graduate work is included in ProQuest Dissertations & Theses Global it is connected within a citation network of 1 billion other known citations across journal articles, books, newspapers, and other dissertations. Leverage the Citation Connections found in your institution's dissertations and theses to elevate your university's scholarship.

United States Electronic Thesis and Dissertation Association

Sponsorship

The US Electronic Thesis and Dissertation Association (USETDA) will hold their 12th annual conference, "USETDA 2022" from September 21 – 23, 2022 at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio and also as a virtual hybrid event via Hopin virtual conference system.

USETDA 2022 is for professionals from graduate schools, libraries, academic computing and anyone else working with electronic theses and dissertations. Our goal is to offer relevant, practice-oriented content to support ETD professionals, advance ETD operations and efficiency, and encourage the formation of state-wide ETD associations in the United States.

The conference theme "Making Connections – Scholarly Communication in the Digital Age" will focus on the impact and implications of connecting scholars and research from across the country and around the world. We will examine the present use and availability of ETDs and related initiatives. We will also explore new and emerging ETD practices, needs, and influences that impact administrative, graduate school and library professionals.

Sponsorship Options

The USETDA offers a variety of conference sponsorship options to help support our mission as well as to promote your brands, products and services. You will find the USETDA Conference sponsorship options listed below as well as online. Please take a few moments to consider which level of support you could offer and the benefits we provide. Sponsors are welcome to submit a research-based program for consideration in the Call for Proposals (not intended for product demonstrations).

Responses to this sponsorship invitation should be sent no later than August 10, 2022.

About USETDA 2022

USETDA 2022 is the national conference for ETD professionals from all areas: graduate schools, libraries, and information technology specialists. Our focus is on relevant and current issues with an emphasis on sharing practice-based resources from around the U.S. We anticipate over 200 people will attend, with most constituents being from the United States. In past years we have averaged 100 participants attending and had numerous corporate and non-profit sponsors, including colleges and universities, institutional repository and archival system providers, digital technology applications companies, bookbinders and other library related services. Part of the conference includes an ETD technology fair, where vendors can set up exhibits and interact with our audience. Additionally, there are opportunities to

Hybrid Writing Boot Camp

Emily Redd

Dr. Virginia Foley

Presented by Emily Redd and Virginia Foley – East Tennessee State University

The Graduate School at ETSU started the first Thesis and Dissertation Boot Camp program in the Fall of 2012 by organizing a team of dedicated faculty and staff to help promote the Boot Camp and to run its sessions. Boot Camp at ETSU has since had great success with participation, positive student feedback, and student success. We have had 580 total registrations and 386 unique participants in Boot Camp from all stages of the writing process and of those who were close to finishing, 194 have graduated, many of whom have credited the Boot Camp program with their success. We advertise to all ETSU graduate students working on a major research project. We also advertise to local and regional institutions. Students from all of these groups have participated.

The COVID-19 pandemic required faculty and staff at East Tennessee State University to rapidly adapt and update how we meet student needs. In this presentation we will provide an update on how our boot camp has evolved to a hybrid camp, due to COVID-19, and will also detail how, what, when, and who is involved in setting up and running our boot camps in addition to providing an overview of our optional workshops that are offered during each session.

This workshop is intended to be interactive, so questions will be proposed throughout the presentation to explore the variety of options and best practices for boot camps at other institutions. First, participants will be asked to reflect on the resources they have or know of at their own institutions:

- 1. Activity 1 – Reflective
 - a. List as many resources you know of on your campus that help writers
 - b. List spaces on your campus that could hold a camp but also provide the right environment
 - c. List faculty or staff that are motivated and want to help
 - d. What types of students need the most help (certain disciplines, demographics, etc.)?

Second, participants will be divided into groups to discuss their lists

- 2. Activity 2 – Divide into groups and discuss lists
 - a. Those who have no Boot Camp, or are not sure if it's even needed
 - b. Those who have been thinking about or have tried Boot Camp and can't get it started
 - c. Those who have a Boot Camp and want to improve it or share best practices

 [BREAK] ***

Third,

- 3. Activity 3 – Participants will be asked to create a pilot for their Boot Camp. Remove all barriers and imagine what the ideal Boot Camp looks like at their institutions.

Lastly, we will go around the room and do a Q & A, share thoughts and ideas about the workshop and if it sparked plans, or revealed the need for more research, then create a final to-do list to take back.

- 4. Take Away – go back and...
 - a. Gather data. Who needs the most help at your institution?
 - b. Reach out for support and volunteers
 - c. Tour spaces
 - d. Run a pilot. Why not?!?
