CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

83rd Annual MAGS Meeting

March 24-26, 2027

The Graduate by Hilton, Minneapolis, MN

Conference Theme: Frameworks for Success: Redefining Graduate Research Milestones

Join Team USETDA at the MAGS 2027 Conference in Minneapolis! There is an ETD-related strand of relevant topics in the MAGS Call for Abstracts, highlighted below. The deadline to submit abstracts is October 15, 2026.

Disruption is now a steady beat in graduate education. At the 82nd Annual Meeting of the Midwestern Association of Graduate Schools (MAGS), Breaking the Standard: Responding to Rhythms of Disruption in Graduate Education will focus on practical strategies for adapting programs, policies, and supports. Kansas City's jazz history reminds us that flexibility and collaboration can turn uncertainty into innovation.

We welcome abstract submissions that demonstrate evidence-informed responses to change: redesigns that improved outcomes, pilots that scaled, policies that increased access, technologies that truly helped, and collaborations that held up under pressure. Share what you tried, what you learned, and what others can adopt.

Submission can include:

- Presentations
- Panels
- Facilitated Discussions

Priority strands and topics: [Please note that abstracts on recruitment, admissions, professional. development, and other areas of graduate education will also be considered.]

Evidence-Based Decision Making and Policy Design: Focusing on how administrators use institutional data equity audits, and policy frameworks to make informed, impactful decisions about graduate milestone requirements.

- Assessing Program Effectiveness: Collecting and analyzing qualitative and quantitative feedback from faculty and students to continuously improve graduate milestones
- Balancing Rigor and Flexibility in Milestone Policies: Data-informed approaches to setting standards that maintain academic excellence while reducing unnecessary time-to-degree bottlenecks.
- Equity-Centered Policy Evaluation: Conducting audits of historical graduate program data to identify and dismantle systemic barriers in milestones like qualifying exams and comprehensive reviews.
- Policy Enforcement and Exception Management: Building transparent, fair, and scalable frameworks for handling student appeals, committee disputes, and milestone deadline extensions.

Publishing, Dissemination, and Repositories: Focusing on the lifecycle of academic output, open access, institutional visibility, and sharing student scholarship with the broader world.

- Modernizing the Thesis and Dissertation Process: Streamlining formatting, submission, embargo policies, digital workflows for institutional repositories.
- Navigating Academic Publishing: Equipping support staff to guide students through peer-review, open-access fees, copyright considerations, and predatory journal avoidance.
- Beyond the Traditional Manuscript: Integrating digital humanities, multimedia projects, and alternative scholarship into standard repository frameworks.
- Maximizing Research Impact: Utilizing institutional repositories and academic networking platforms to boost the visibility of graduate student scholarship.

Staff Leadership and Professional Empowerment: Focusing on the operational leaders - the manager, coordinators, and support staff - and how they cultivate leadership skills, manage teams, and prevent burnout in high-volume offices.

- Managing High-Stakes Workflows: Decision-making frameworks for graduate coordinators managing heavy caseloads during peak milestone seasons (defenses, graduation, admissions)

- Empowering Frontline Support Staff: Developing internal leadership pathways, professional development, and decision-making autonomy for graduate program coordinators.

Holistic Student Support and Milestone Navigation: Focusing on the operational, professional, and well-being frameworks required to help graduate students successfully cross the finish line.

- Redefining the Defense: Modernizing committee structures, virtual/hybrid defenses, and the holistic support needed during final milestones.
- Professional Development Integration: Aligning research milestones with career readiness (preparing students for both academia and industry/alt-ac paths)
- Mentorship Training for Faculty and Staff: Establishing frameworks that foster healthy, productive advisor-advisee relationships.
- Mental Health and Wellness at the Finish Line: Creating support systems to combat burnout, imposter syndrome, and isolation during the final stages of research.
